Our Commitment

Blue Cross and Blue Shield companies remain committed to helping communities across the country during the COVID-19 pandemic. The belief that every American deserves safe and effective COVID-19 vaccines is at the heart of our commitment. We continue to support widespread vaccination events, as well as targeted efforts to reach those with low access. Blue Cross and Blue Shield companies have so far invested $11.5 billion to support their communities during the pandemic. We’re using our deep community connections to build confidence in vaccines. And we’re striving to eliminate racial disparities in access. Our goal is to build a more equitable health care system for all, now and beyond the pandemic.

Educating the Community

Broad-based community education:
- Executive medical directors and other leaders on local TV (news coverage and sponsored segments, article, podcasts)
- Brand news blog, social media linking to resources, updates and recommendations from public health authorities
- Direct stakeholder communications through producer and member newsletters
- Developed educational fliers about the vaccine in English and Spanish (distributed to members and employers). Of note, the Idaho Primary Care Association made the fliers available to all its patients and distributed to its network of 50 clinics statewide.

Addressing Inequities

- Partnership with Medical Teams International to support pop-up clinics in WA and OR to serve vulnerable communities.
- Foundation sponsorship of Trust for America’s Health study on best practices and recommendations for distribution of vaccine to homebound older adults and people with disabilities.
- Supporting high-risk members and high-risk populations by identifying zip codes that are facing greater COVID disparities.
- Part of the AHIP and BCBSA coalition of Plans working with the White House on Vaccine Community Connectors program, pledging to promote vaccinations for 2 million underserved, at-risk Americans. (Our Chief of Customer Experience was a national spokeswoman for this effort).
- Joined the Rally for Recovery Commitment, a national commitment to protect employees and communities by encouraging vaccines and continued mitigation efforts.
- Held webinars for community nonprofit organizations, focused on at-risk communities and aggregated resources for their use.
- Worked in partnership with local TV (Portland, Seattle) on public service announcements targeted to Black and LatinX communities (in English and Spanish) to encourage vaccination.
